

I Remember You

I Remember You

While my heart may be full of emotion like a mired of water rushing in from the ocean
I remember you fondly.

I remember so much about you and all the days you said a happy “Good Morning” to me with the wonderful light of a smile on your face.

How you told me of the wonderful places you visited on your many vacations

All the pictures that dawned your desk showing your family and friends who loved you so much.

I Remember You

I remember you, and I can't forget the many meetings we shared and how sometimes we stared at our papers in the meeting as the minutes went by

But catching a glimpse of a smile from each other as the speaker turned from our eyes.

I Remember You

I remember the times you made me laugh out loud as we walked the halls and I had to cover my mouth to hush the boisterous sound that you brought out of me with your joy that you shared with everyone.

The journey has been long for us but now you have ended your time here and moved on to a heavenly place.

I know you have taken something special with you it is your love, kindness and gentle spirit to heaven above.
But, I will still remember you
